Volume 21, Number 250

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1922

Price Three Cents

SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE PUTS DUTY ON HIDES

ACTION WILL START BIG FIGHT IN CONGRESS IT IS CLAIMED

WITH DUTY ON SHOES AND LEATHER WILL RAISE PRICE OF SHOES 40 CENTS A PAIR

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 27.—The senate finance committee action in putting a duty on hides, boots and shoes and leather is destined to start a fight in congress, the consequences of which may be as great as those of the row a decade ago over "Schedule K" in the Payne-Aldrich bill.

The proposed tariff, if retained, will make shoes cost from thirty to fifty cents a pair more than at present, according to authoritative figures furnished the United Press today.

Representative Hawley of Oregon, formerly for such a tariff, is now strongly opposed to it.

The tariff bill passed the house. Hides, boots and shoes and leather were on the free list.

The senate finance committee Republicans, however, determined upon a fifteen per cent ad valorem duty on hides, a ten per cent on boots and shoes, and a ten to twenty-five per cent ad valorem on leather.

Hawley figures that only the packer-tanner would benefit from the new regime.

The farmer-stockman would get, he estimated, $34,000,000 for his products, but he and his farmer worker would have to pay $38,600,000 more for their products than would be the case under free listing. He estimated that the average increase in price of shoes would be forty cents a pair.

In addition to the hides battle, there will be a fight on the sugar schedule and probably on the lumber schedule. Louisiana, the great sugar cane state wants two cents a pound duty on Cuban sugar, while the finance committee Republicans have fixed the rate at one and six-tenths a pound.

Likewise, Louisiana is disappointed with the mild treatment accorded the black strap molasses used for feeding cattle.

TWO BANDITS HOLD UP HOTEL ROOM OCCUPANTS

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 27.—Two bandits held up occupants of the City Hall Square Hotel early today, and were captured in ten minutes by Martin Levy, night clerk.

The occupants of the room were two men and a girl who were robbed of $99.00.

They telephoned the clerk who captured the bandits on their way down stairs.

AN ATTEMPTED JAIL DELIVERY FRUSTRATED BY A 12 YEAR OLD LAD

(By United Press.)
Marion, Ill., March 27.—Twelve year old Ralph Phaxton was the hero of Marion today.

Ralph entered the jail as his father, Sheriff Melvin Phaxton, was attacked by two prisoners last night.

In spite of threats by other prisoners, the boy ran a mile and brought back with him Tom Freeze, a guard. Freeze shot and killed George Wilson of Chicago, leader in the attempted jail delivery.

RETAIL FOOD COST DROPS

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 27.—The retail cost of food on March 15th this year was still from 26 to 51 per cent higher than in 1913, the department of labor estimated today, based on investigations in ten representative cities of the country.

A decrease, however, was registered for the month ending March 15th over the previous month.

JEWELL DEMANDS LIVING WAGE FOR RAIROAD WORKERS

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 27.—Bert M. Jewell, president of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor, demanded before the United States railroad labor board today that the carriers pay their employees "at least a living wage."

Jewell challenged the right of railroads to petition cuts in the pay of their employees because the roads "could not afford to pay the existing scales."

GERMANY CANNOT FULFILL ALLIED MORATORIUM OFFER

TO PAY $750,000,000 GOLD MARKS IN CASH AND TWICE AS MUCH IN GOODS IN 1922

(By United Press.)
Berlin, March 27.—Germany cannot fulfill the conditions of the allied moratorium proposals, government spokesmen maintained today.

It was authoritatively denied, however, that the government had rejected the allied reparations commission conditions. Chancellor Wirth and Minister Rathenau will continue the German policy used so often since the end of the war: "Negotiate but never say no."

The allied demand includes a payment of 750,000,000 gold marks in cash and 1,450,000,000 in goods in 1922.

Germany undoubtedly will ask further negotiations and possibly attempt to have the matter brought up at Genia.

St. Cloud Banker Is Accused of Operating "Confidence Ring"

(By United Press.)
St. Cloud, March 27.—Charges that Ralph Olson and two Minneapolis bankers operated a "confidence ring" were made in district court today by Attorney James R. Bennett Jr., in connection with suits now pending against Olson.

R. I. Garish and L. W. Hines, of the Bankers Service Company, of Minneapolis were named by Attorney Bennett as associates of Olson.

Olson was released as president of the First National Bank of St. Cloud about two months ago. L. A. Pope, vice president, brought suit against Olson to recover $50,000 alleging he paid that much for 250 shares of stock in the bank.

Pope's name as signed to a note was given by Olson. He named Olson, Garish and Hines in his arguments before Judge John A. Roeder.

FARRINGTON WILL CONFER WITH 3 COAL MINE HEADS

AT CHICAGO ON WEDNESDAY IN AN EFFORT TO AVERT STRIKE

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 27.—Frank Farrington, head of the Illinois coal miners, and the presidents of three middle west coal operators' associations, will confer here Wednesday in an effort to avert the coal strike scheduled for April 1, it was announced here today.

The announcement made by F. C. Honnold, secretary of the Illinois coal operators' association, followed receipt of a telegram from Farrington agreeing to meet the operators.

MILLIONAIRE PACKER'S SON IS ARRESTED

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 27.—Louis F. Swift, Jr., son of the packer, will be tried at Evanston Friday on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Swift spent four hours in jail yesterday waiting for friends to bail him out. His arrest followed a clash in which four occupants of another car were injured.

In a statement, Swift said the accident was unavoidable, and that he was not intoxicated.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR MISSING AVON SCHOOL TEACHER

AIRPLANES FROM THREE FIELDS WILL COVER TERRITORY ABOUT THE CITIES

DETECTIVES STILL BELIEVE SHE IS HELD PRISONER IN ROAD HOUSE OR RESORT

(By United Press.)
Minneapolis, March 27.—Airplanes from three Twin City fields today joined in the search for pretty Loraine Schneider, school teacher, who disappeared more than a week ago from a hotel here.

The flyers will fairly cover the territory around the twin cities working on the possibility that the girl was slain, and her body hidden in some field or woods.

Despite this theory, detectives are still working on the belief that Miss Schneider is held prisoner in some road house or resort nearby.

Detectives said there was no direct evidence that the girl who was driven to Osseo in a taxi cab with a man last Friday night was Miss Schneider. He said conversations he overheard indicated the girl intended to leave for Milwaukee.

The girl's aged father broke down completely in the Burns detective agency office.

"I would rather see her found dead than to discover she had been kidnapped and abused. She was a good girl, and we all loved her. You've got to find out something."

Sheriff Ben Shiener, of St. Cloud, was here to furnish authorities with information of the girl's past life. He refused to discuss the questioning of a man in St. Cloud. Questioning of this man, it was indicated was solely in regard to the girl's past life.

N. P. INCREASES ITS 1922 BUDGET TO $19,000,000

GREAT PART OF MONEY TO BE SPENT IN NORTHWEST, OFFICIAL ANNOUNCES

Minneapolis, March 27.—Approval of all improvement projects before them by officials of the Northern Pacific railroad increased the 1922 expenditure from $5,000,000, announced last week to $19,000,000, the office of the president of the road said. Chief items in the new budget, the largest the road has contracted for, are $3,092,000 for rails and track materials; $3,143,000 for bridges and trestles; $700,000 for automatic signal and interlocking equipment; $3,950,000 for passenger and freight cars; $1,300,000 for ballasting, and $2,500,000 for work carried over from last year's budget, which was uncompleted.

A contract was closed for the supply of 1,000 freight refrigerator cars at a cost of $2,500,000. The contract for the signal equipment also was closed. The automatic block equipment with the installation of that purchased today will make all but 206 miles of the more than 2,000 miles of main line protected.

"We feel that the northwest needs the money spent here, as a great part of it will be," R. W. Clark, assistant to the president of the road, said. "The timber and shipwork money will all be spent in the northwest, as will the money for labor."

BRITISH LORDS RATIFY TREATY

(By United Press.)
London, March 27.—The house of lords today passed the Irish bill on its third reading without a record vote. This constitutes ratification of the Irish-British treaty.

Adam's Apple.
Adam's apple is the prominence made by the thyroid cartilage on the front of the human throat. It is natural on both men and women, but is larger in men. Adam's apple, or pomum Adam, got its name from the notion that when Adam tried to swallow the forbidden fruit it stuck in his throat. The Adam's apple is an aid to the organ of speech.

3 BANDITS HOLD UP CREAMERY MANAGER ESCAPE WITH $2,500

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, March 27.—Operating within sight of employees of the Crescent Creamery company, three bandits in a hold robbery at 10 a. m. today escaped with $2,500 of the company's money.

S. J. Gadees, credit manager of the firm, had just started for the bank with the money. The bandit machine forced him to the curb. Two men with drawn revolvers ordered him to throw up his hands. They grabbed the bag containing the money and drove rapidly away.

MAY IMPORT COAL IN CASE OF STRIKE

PLAN BEING CONSIDERED IT IS REPORTED; BORAH SEEKS TO EFFECT SETTLEMENT

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 27.—A project for importation of coal to save the nation from a fuel famine which might result from the walk-out of miners April 1 is planned by government officials, it was learned here today.

The shipping board has been asked to consider a scheme for utilizing coal as ballast on its vessels plying between the United States and coal producing countries.

Experts say if this plan materializes, no fuel shortage could result within twelve months time at least.

Senator Borah was to continue his conferences this week with labor representatives and others involved in the coal strike in an effort to bring about a truce in the threatened mine war.

Borah last week talked over the situation with three labor representatives. He may call the senate labor committee this week to consider information he has gathered, and later offer his good offices in an effort to bring both sides together.

FERRY BOAT EXPLOSION KILLS FOUR MEN

Port Huron, Mich., March 27.—Four men were killed and property damage estimated at $100,000 was caused by a boiler explosion on board the ferryboat Omar D. Conger this afternoon. The explosion shook the entire downtown district. The boiler was thrown 250 feet into a dwelling.

No one else was aboard the boat at the time of the explosion.

Six persons were injured, none seriously. The dwelling into which the boiler was thrown caught fire and was burned to the ground. The occupants of the house, William Smith and family, were attending a movie at the time.

A steam radiator was thrown 1000 feet into the chapel of Albert A. Falk, where a funeral was in progress. Mourners were injured by splinters. Glass was broken in store fronts two blocks away.

The explosion was due to scarcity of water in the boiler, it is believed. The boat was tied at the dock in Black river.

The dead: Ransom A. Campbell, chief engineer of the ferry; Tom Bruckner and Kenneth Crandall, deck hands, and Clifford Althouse, fireman.

Investigation Ordered
Port Huron, Mich., March 27.—Probe of the explosion of the ferry Omar D. Conger which killed four members of the crew and injured scores of others, was ordered today.

The explosion which wrecked the Omar D. Conger while on its way to Saranac, Ont., rocked the entire city.

Young Man, Age 22, Confesses to Burglaries

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 27.—Robert Pleinkett, 22, of Minneapolis, confessed to two burglaries here today.

Pleinkett, who said he was a member of a well-to-do family in Minneapolis, told police he robbed homes in Chicago and Minneapolis of furs and jewelry.

Detectives said Miss Anna Gruenger, under arrest in Minneapolis, implicated Pleinkett.

LLOYD GEORGE RETURNS TO TACKLE IRISH QUESTION

IRISH PREMIERS UNABLE TO COME—PREVENT PROPOSED CONFERENCE

(By United Press.)
London, March 27.—Premier Lloyd George returned from Wales today to tackle the Irish crisis.

Absence of Sir James Craig and Michael Collins, who were kept in Ireland by urgent problems threatening their governments, prevented the proposed Irish conference at 10 Downing street.

Lloyd George turned his attention to the Genoa conference. Senator Schainzer, Italian foreign minister arrived to confer with the Premier regarding the conclave.

The economic situation in London, where a lockout of 600,000 miners is threatened, also claimed the Premier's attention. It was believed Lloyd George would intervene if requested, in negotiations which reopened today between employers and union leaders.

Lloyd George is determined not to appear in the House of Commons and to leave for Chequers, his country estate tomorrow.

Ulster Cabinet Accepts

Belfast, March 27.—The Ulster cabinet today accepted the invitation of the British government to an Irish conference with southern leaders at London.

Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, will go to London tomorrow.

Republicans Attack Free State Troops
Londonderry, Ireland, March 27.—The Irish Republican army insurgents yesterday attacked police barracks at Newton, which were occupied by Free state troops.

After a three hour siege, the attackers retired, leaving six prisoners in the hands of the loyal troops. Several of the attackers were wounded.

TEXTILE WORKERS STRIKE AGAINST WAGE REDUCTION

NEW ENGLAND CONFRONTED WITH ONE OF WORST STRIKES IN HISTORY

(By United Press.)
Lawrence, Mass., March 27.—Lawrence, scene of bitter battles in previous industrial wars, was plunged into another strike today when 10,000 textile workers walked out rather than accept a twenty per cent wage cut.

Textile strikes are already in progress in Lowell and Fitchburg, Mass., and in cities in New Hampshire and Rhode Island. With the walkout here today, New England was confronted with one of the most widespread strikes in history, threatening partial paralysis of its great textile industry.

CONFERENCE CALLED ON POTATO GROWING

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, March 27.—Hugh J. Hughes, state director of markets, has called a conference of potato growers at Grand Forks, N. D.

Plans for better methods of potato grading and marketing will be discussed.

RICKARD TESTIFIES IN OWN BEHALF

(By United Press.)
New York, March 27.—George L. Rickard, sporting promoter, accused of misconduct with four school girls, took the stand in his own defense this afternoon at the opening of the afternoon session.

How Noiseless Is the Growth.
Much has been accomplished; more than people are aware, so gradual has been the advance. How noiseless is the growth of corn! Watch it night and day for a week, and you will never see it growing; but return after two months, and you will find it all whitening for the harvest; such, and so imperceptible in the stages of their motion, are the victories of the press. —De Quincey.

MAKE THE HUGHES DECLARATION PART OF FOUR-POWER PACT

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 27.—Democratic senators may succeed in forcing Senator Lodge to make the Hughes declaration a part of the four-power Pacific treaty. Lodge today was considering two means of meeting the point Democrats raised to the effect that unless the declaration was ratified by the senate as a part of the four-power pact, it would prove of no benefit to the United States.

The declaration reserves American rights in the Pacific, and excludes domestic questions such as the Japanese problem on the Pacific coast from operation of the four-power treaty.

TURKEY TO BE RE-ESTABLISHED AS INDEPENDENT STATE

COUNCIL OF AMBASSADORS ANNOUNCE DECISION TO BRING END TO WAR

(By United Press.)
Paris, March 27.—Turkey is to be re-established as an independent sovereign nation.

In response to demands of millions of Mohammedans throughout the Moslem world, including India, the allied commission restored the Turkish nation as a virtual independent nation.

Foreign ministers of France, Great Britain and Italy who met last week to consider revision of the treaty of Sevres and to bring an end to the Greco-Turkey war today issued a proclamation formally announcing their decision.

Young Girl's Romance Is Shattered in Two Weeks

(By United Press.)
Prairie du Chien, Wis., March 27.—It took two weeks to shatter the romance of Violet Ahrens, 14-year-old daughter of a dairy farmer here, but the job was effectually consummated today when Joe Burns, her farm hand lover, was arraigned in court on charges of eloping with a minor.

Burns, 21 years old, with Violet, on March 14th left her father who who had employed him to work on his dairy farm. Sheriff J. S. Harold began search for the two, even taking a trip to Des Moines, Iowa, and finally caught the pair last Friday just after they had been refused a marriage license in Ladysmith, Wis.

Violet is back home today, declaring "she had enough romance."

WOMEN JURORS COMPLAIN OF DISCOURTEOUS CONDUCT

ON PART OF COURT EMPLOYEES—INVESTIGATION BEING MADE

(By United Press.)
Cleveland, Ohio, March 27.—Charges that county employees have made improper advances to some women jurors locked up overnight in deliberation of cases were investigated by judges today. Judge Florence A. Allen considered stenographic reports of testimony of several women jurors who had entered protest.

The charges were that sufficient protection had not been afforded them when compelled to spend the night in deliberation; that improper advances were made to some jurors, and that at least two county employees had acted discourteously.

RESCUE BOY FROM FLOATING ICE CAKE

(By United Press.)
Minneapolis, March 27.—Members of a riding party rescued a small boy from a floating cake of ice in the swollen waters of Minnehaha creek Sunday, and the frightened lad ran homeward before his rescuers could learn his name.

The rescue was effected by L. K. Eaton, Edward H. Hicks and Gordon Sutton aided the rescue.

MANY HOLD UPS AND ROBBERIES OCCUR IN MINNEAPOLIS

CREAMERY MANAGER ROBBED OF $2500 WITHIN SIGHT OF EMPLOYEES

ICE CREAM PLANT SAFE BLOWN OPEN, CONFECTIONERY STORE ROBBED, ETC.

(By United Press.)
Minneapolis, March 27.—Four masked yeggs blew a safe in the Kent ice cream company's plant early today, and escaped with $1500 in cash.

John Johnson, night watchman, was bound and gagged. He was found by employees when they went to work. He said the sound of the explosion which wrecked the safe was hardly audible. Police said the yeggs were experts.

Confectionery Store Robbed
Minneapolis, March 27.—Twenty pedestrians waited outside for a street car, and a policeman stood across the street while two bold bandits shortly after midnight robbed a confectionery store.

S. H. Stamas, proprietor, was preparing to close the store when the men entered. They commanded him to throw off the lights. People outside thought the store was closed. Bandits then took $550 from the cash register, and escaped through an alley.

8 BOY SCOUTS ARE DROWN AS BOAT SINKS

South Bend, Ind., March 27.—Five boys and three men drowned Saturday when a boat carrying a party of Boy Scouts capsized in Lake Michigan, 30 miles from here. All the persons drowned were from South Bend.

The party was enroute to Hemlock Island where a summer scout camp was being laid out.

The vessel, a 14 foot steel motorboat, sunk in the middle of the lake. The dead:

Joseph Taylor, scout executive, Vernon Murphy, scoutmaster; Jas. Taylor, assistant scoutmaster; Jas. Taylor, William Kingsley, Kenneth Borough, Clinton Matthews, Philip Neitzel.

The last five were Boy Scouts, and were from 12 to 14 years old.

Town in Mourning
South Bend was in mourning today or the eight members of the Boy Scout troop who were drowned in Lake Michigan.

Public memorial services will be held tomorrow.

Mayor E. F. Seebricht in a proclamation asked all merchants to keep shops closed during the funeral services. The tragedy occurred Saturday when the boat in which the troops were riding capsized.

DEMENTED WOMAN SPENDS NIGHT IN TREE IN NIGHT CLOTHES

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 27.—After an all night vigil, police, firemen and hospital men were still trying today to coax Mrs. Annie Lymboraska down from her perch on a tree overhanging a seventy foot ravine on the grounds of St. Elizabeth's hospital.

The woman spent all Sunday night in the tree, threatening to leap to her death in the ravine if her would-be rescuers approached her frail perch.

The woman escaped from the hospital about 6 p. m. She wore only a night gown. When hospital men started in pursuit her, she climbed the tree. After futile attempts to reach her by attendants, which only brought screams and threats to jump, police were appealed to, and in turn firemen. But the woman shouted at the top of her voice warning them not to try to come near, and declaring she would never come down.

Woman is Rescued
Washington, March 27.—After remaining perched in the top of a sixty foot tree for more than 18 hours, clothed only in a night gown, Mrs. Annie Lymboraska, inmate of the St. Elizabeth's hospital was taken down by guards today.

After all means of inducing her to come down were exhausted, a scaffold with a large platform was brought up to her perch.

KARHUNSAARI IN A CHALLENGE TO WORLD

In a letter addressed to the sporting editor of the Brainerd Dispatch, Henry Karhunsaaari, well known wrestler writes as follows:

Lincoln, Neb., March 25, 1922
Sporting Editor Brainerd Dispatch,
Dear Sir:

After reading in the Duluth papers of my backing out of my match with Curtiss at Brainerd on February 3, I wish you would explain through your paper why I did not come for the match on the third. Seems that you are under the impression that I really did back out of that bout as the news came from your paper.

I wired Mr. Smraker that the date of Feb. 3rd would be O. K. with me, and for him to let me know if the match would be put on for that date, but I did not receive any word whatsoever, so how did I know that the match was on for that date? Regarding my backing out, I am willing to meet any man in the world at 155 pounds for any amount of a side bet. This applies to Curtiss also. I have wired Mr. Smraker today that I am ready to meet Mr. Curtiss on April 21, and if the match is promoted for that date and I do not show up, then I will have a bawling out coming through the paper. But this mistake surely was not on my part. Hoping that this clears every thing up and that we can get together on April 21, I remain

Very truly yours,
HENRY KARHUNSAARI

WM. SCHELLHORN ORDERED RELEASED

Young Man was Held Pending Charges Filed Against Him by the Authorities

WM. SCHELLHORN'S STATEMENT

In Interview With Dispatch Declared He Had Very Little Acquaintance With Jenest

Saturday afternoon William Schellhorn, held on charges filed by the authorities, was released from custody.

In an interview with the Dispatch, Schellhorn said he had very little acquaintance with Ed Jenest. He had served three years in the navy and came back to Brainerd in 1919. Instead of being a chum or pal of Jenest, Schellhorn said he was neither and at one time, a month ago, had a fist fight with Jenest. He saw him twice after the fight and then spoke casually to him, said Schellhorn.

Uniform Came in Handy.

I gave up my profession as trained nurse after my marriage and sometimes wore my uniforms for house dresses. One day, while in the front room, I heard the back door open and close. I was alone in the house and on going to investigate I saw a rough-looking stranger coming through the kitchen straight toward me. Presence of mind came to my rescue. I raised my hand and said, "Don't come in here, we have a scarlet fever patient." He quickly scanned my uniform and made a hasty retreat through the rear door. —Chicago Journal.

SPANISH SWINDLE IS FOLLOWED UP

Julius Deering, Brainerd Tinner, Got One of the "Spanish Swindle" Letters

PAID NO ATTENTION TO LETTER

St. Paul Business Man Bit and Paid Cable Charges and Then Told Police About It

The "Spanish swindle" letters is a confidence game of such ancient origin that it is supposed to pre-date the shell game. In fact, the "Spanish swindle letter" is supposed to carry whisksers.

When Julius Deering, Brainerd tinner, got one of these letters, he laughed and took the letter, spiked it on an order hook and used the back of it to figure out how much tin it took to make some farmer's barn ventilator. He let the Dispatch have the letter and it was published.

Now one would suppose St. Paul business men knew about these "Spanish letters." But not so! One of them came near investing $4,000 savings in the game.

This was brought out when post-office inspectors announced that recent warnings in newspapers of a revival of the old Spanish swindle led one St. Paul business man, whose name is withheld, to the postal authorities for consultation instead of to be relieved of his money.

Nibbled "for a Lark"

The St. Paul man nibbled at the bait "for a lark." The whole thing was only a joke, the almost-victim explained to postal authorities.

It seemed he had received a letter from a "Spanish banker" several weeks ago, stating that if that St. Paul man would be of assistance, there would be a large reward.

The St. Paul man answered the letter by cable, as directed. Then came an abundance of mail. The banker's plight was described. An official copy of his sentence to prison in Madrid, a newspaper clipping telling of the trial and sentence, and a baggage check for the banker's belonging, "now held by the government in lieu of payment of trial expenses," accompanied the letter.

His Daughter in Orphanage

The letter told how the prisoner, who gave his name as Ramon de Santaelara, was a banker at Santa Cruz de Tenerife, Canary islands, until the close of the war, when, having amassed a fortune, he went into bankruptcy, turned all his collateral into cash and deposited a sum equal to $360,000 with a bank in London to be transferred to a Chicago bank. In return he received a sight draft payable in Chicago.

Returning to the Canary islands to get his 18-year-old daughter, described as beautiful, the pair fled to Spain to take a boat for New York, but the authorities arrested him and placed his daughter in an orphanage.

The government seized his baggage, in a secret pocket of which the sight draft was contained, and is holding it pending payment of final costs, the letter explained.

Must Go to Saragosa

All that was necessary for the St. Paul man was a journey to Saragassa a meeting with a trusted jailor of the prison who had been taken into confidence by the banker, giving him the $4,000, which would release the baggage, and proceeding with the sight draft and the beautiful daughter, who would be rescued from the orphanage, to America.

Postal authorities said after the jailer received the money would have come enlightenment for the victim. The jailor would have disappeared and likewise all trace of the banker.

It is now reported that several Crow Wing county farmers have received these "Spanish swindle" letters.

Study Club Meeting

Last Saturday the Study club met at the Chamber of Commerce to listen to a talk on "Pottery", prepared by Mrs. G. I. Badeaux and Miss Barbara Armstrong and given by the latter. First they listened to two very charming solos by Mrs. John H. Krekelberg, accompanied by Miss Marie Koop.

Miss Armstrong traced the growth of pottery from earliest prehistoric times to the most famous wares of all countries. Pottery is the outgrowth of a very definite need, when man, in emerging from savagery, finds it necessary to store food. The first pottery was that of the Egyptians, inclining, as did all their art, to massiveness, yet with a faithfulness to detail that produced vivid and life like figures, made by graving the design on the unfired clay and then filling it in with clay of another color. They colored their vases in an infinite variety of blue, combined with gold, with birds and butterflies, lotus plants and reeds for their motifs.

The Greeks had two types—with a background of the natural color, or in black, with the design in the contrasting color. These designs, whether of plants or humans, done with all the marvellous grace and artistry that has made the Greek art unequalled before or since, even in our boasted modern culture. At first the human figures were in profile, but later the full face was portrayed.

The Romans adopted the Greek pottery as well as the rest of their art, changing from the freedom of the Greeks to the conventional designs, and getting the black color by a certain method of firing rather than from the pigments.

The Chinese reached the highest state of pottery perfection in their dainty porcelains, with exquisite coloring called by them "sky after the rain" or "Green, liquid dawn", "The red of the bean blossom", and others. This art the Japanese borrowed, showing as great a skill in both finish and design.

Delft pottery with its soft blues and charm, has had a romantic history, starting in the city of Delft in Holland, encouraged by William of Orange, until there were thirty potteries in the one city, and then meeting with too strenuous opposition from English competition until it almost perished, to be revived by a far sighted engineer who restored it to its former glory.

The English attained their highest point in Wedgwood, made of such fine clay and with such perfection of detail that today the genuine ware is highly prized by collectors. The Jasper ware is the best known, probably—a white bisque background with the design in colors.

Those who own willow ware should know the story that the pottery tells—of a fair Chinese lady who loved her father's secretary instead of the man he had chosen for her. So she eloped with her lover, married him, and later the souls of the two arise from the grave in the shape of two doves, and fly away together after the disappointed suitor had burned their home.

The American art has developed from the early Indian ware as made today by Pueblo Indians to that of two very fine wares. The Rookwood made at Cincinnati, very well made and artistically decorated, and the Grueby pottery at Boston.

The ladies had collected and had on exhibition many examples of the different types loaned by generous owners some almost priceless heirlooms ranging from late productions to those of several centuries past. They deserve much credit for both the information and the collection.

In addition they had a number of very interesting slides illustrating the decorations and styles and colors of the various nations. For the manipulation of the lantern and slides they extend their thanks to Rev. Cadwell.

"RUTH, THE LOVING" BIBLICAL DRAMA

To Be Presented Friday Evening, March 31, by Brainerd Baptist Young People's Union

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Characters of Ruth and Naomi Taken by Mary and Ruth Drewry, Boaz by Maurice Stoner

On Friday, March 31, the people of Brainerd will be given a treat in Biblical drama when the Brainerd B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church presents the Book of Ruth in a drama called "Ruth the Loving."

The cast playing this drama is an experienced group of people. The characters of "Ruth" and "Naomi" are taken by Mary and Ruth Drewry, both of whom have appeared in high school operettas in Windom.

The role of "Boaz" is ably handled by Maurice Stoner who appeared in the high school senior play of '22, as the butler. "Elmeleek" is played by Richard Pedersen, who had the leading role in "Yokohama Maid" of last year.

"Prophetess Deborah" is the part of Hazel Shew, who showed up well in the senior play of '22. The young people have shown great ingenuity by perfecting their own scenery and costumes. They promise the best that can be had in presenting ancient history by modern means.

BREAKS up FEVER

A chiropractor would rather get a fever case than anything else.

Why? Because it is a common thing for fevers to break up after one or two adjustments have been given.

Fever is excessive heat brought about by certain subluxations; as soon as the subluxations are adjusted and Nature can work normally again, the fever disappears.

KOHLER

Automatic POWER and LIGHT 110 Volt D. C.

—without storage batteries

You now have the opportunity to see, in action, here at our store, the latest successful development in electric power and light plants —the Kohler Automatic.

This plant makes it possible for anyone, anywhere, to produce standard 110-volt electricity for lighting the home and other buildings, operating running water systems and furnishing current to electrical household and power appliances.

You will be surprised to see that the Kohler Automatic operates without storage batteries, which were formerly thought necessary in ordinary electric plants. The only battery used with the Kohler Automatic is a small automobile-type, to start the engine.

This feature of "no storage batteries" does away with the large banks of glass-cell storage batteries, and eliminates much trouble and expense in maintaining and replacing battery plates.

The Kohler Automatic operates all standard 110-volt light bulbs and power appliances. It produces up to 1500 watts of electricity simply upon the turn of any button anywhere on the circuit and automatically regulates the amount of fuel used to the load being carried.

Write for illustrated literature. Come in and see the plant in operation.

FOUR-POWER TREATY RATIFIED

THE ratification of the Four-Power Pacific treaty by the United States Senate, by a vote of 67 to 27, four more than the necessary two-thirds, is a matter of profound gratification to a vast majority of the American people.

It means much, indeed, for our country—for the world. For had the Senate failed to ratify this treaty the work of the Armament Conference would have been for naught. We should have continued a race for control of the sea, with the expenditures increasing as steadily and as rapidly as did military expenditures in the European rivalry which culminated in the great war.

If the Senate had failed to ratify the Four-Power treaty, all the agreements upon anxious questions of Far Eastern policy would have been abandoned; and Japan, expectant of war, would not have released its hold upon Shantung, upon Chinese railroads, upon Siberia.

Had the treaty failed of ratification England would be in military and naval alliance with Japan, a constant threat to America. We should inevitably have had a war with Japan.

The ratification of the Four-Power treaty means the triumph of diplomacy become sane at last, the triumph of common sense, the triumph of democracy making its determination felt upon government.

We cannot, at this time, realize the full purport of the work of the Armament Conference, and the ratification of the agreements there made by the Senate. There is promise, however, that the peace thus secured will stand as the mark of a new epoch in world history, for what it accomplishes and for the example it gives the world.

The American people will probably not forget the four senators claiming to be Republicans who voted against ratification of this treaty. They were Borah, France, Johnson and La Follette.

"MADE IN GERMANY"

REPORTS from Berlin indicate that the familiar trade-mark, "Made in Germany," is soon again to be stamped on German export wares. The agitation to revive this trade-mark, which was known in three-fourths of the market cities of the world before the war, has been increasing in industrial and commercial circles in Germany.

If Congress fails to pass the Republican protective tariff bill the people of the United States will not have to rely on newspaper reports to get this information. They will have reminders of it every day as they read "Made in Germany" on thousands of articles which are displacing the domestic production.

In the year 1921 we imported $80,000,000 worth of goods from Germany. That, perhaps, isn't such a huge sum, but it becomes interesting when one begins to study the import value of the goods and finds hosiery at 11 cents, pocket knives at 10 cents, razors at 16 cents, scissors and shears at 14 cents, and corresponding prices on many other "Made in Germany" goods.

And in studying these figures, one begins to realize that because of the difference in the American and German valuations, $80,000,000 worth of German imports represents the displacement of more than $250,000,000 worth of American products in the home market.

It must be remembered, too, that the consumer is stuck by the importer just the same, for, although the goods are bought at the German valuation, and import duties are paid upon this valuation, the American purchaser is compelled to pay the retailer American prices when he buys them. The cheap labor cost in Germany is responsible for the low market value of the goods in that country.

HUGHES AND GENOA

HON. CHAS. E. HUGHES, our able Secretary of State, seems to have a correct understanding of American public opinion. In his admirable letter declining the invitation to Genoa, Mr. Hughes said:

"This government cannot be unmindful of the clear conviction of the American people, while desirous, as has ever been abundantly demonstrated, suitably to assist in the recovery of economic Europe, that they should not unnecessarily become involved in European political problems."

That is to say, in effect, we will attend to our own business, which, in fact, will keep us reasonably busy.

AN ECONOMICAL CONGRESS

THE PRESENT Republican Congress is certainly unique in one particular at least. No charge of extravagance has ever been raised against it. There have been certain criticisms of some of the appropriation bills, but these criticisms charged too much economy rather than too generous allotments. We doubt very much if there ever was another Congress in the history of the Government with a similar record.

THE HEARING on the granting of a permanent injunction to the mining companies of Minnesota against the collection of the occupational, or so-called "tonnage tax," will be held in the Federal court of St. Paul, April 10, before Judge Tillman D. Johnson of Salt Lake City, Utah. The hearing is not likely to continue more than a few days.

INTEREST now centers on the Republican State and Congressional conventions to be held this week. Returns from nearly all of the 86 counties in the state indicate that Kellogg will be an easy winner on the first ballot, with more than 800 votes to his credit. Hallam will be a very poor second, with less than 300 votes, and Mayor Leach will have not more than 75 at the most.

JULIUS SCHMAHL is said to be figuring on getting into the political game again this year. It is reported that he intends filing for some state office following the state convention.

CHICAGO MAYOR ON TRANSPORTATION
PROBLEM OF CITY

STREET RAILWAY OWNERSHIP BY PEOPLE ONLY SOLUTION,
SAYS MAYOR THOMPSON

(Copyright 1922 by United Press.)
Chicago, March 24.—William Hale Thompson, who has directed Chicago's fight for a five-cent carfare, today outlined his campaign to drive privately owned traction systems from the streets of Chicago.

The mayor consented to give his views in an exclusive interview with the United Press—the first interview he has granted in several years—only when it was pointed out that many other cities faced traction problems similar to that in Chicago, and experiences gained here might be helpful to other municipalities.

"In dealings of the street car companies with the city, the case has always been 'heads the companies win, tails the city loses,'" the mayor declared.

"The only solution of the street railway problem in Chicago is the ownership of the railways by the people and their operation by trustees elected by the people for that purpose," continued the mayor.

"The United States Supreme Court has pointed out that experience demonstrates that the aim of private ownership is to get the largest amount of pay for the smallest amount of service; while the proper aim of public ownership is to give the largest amount of service for the smallest amount of pay."

"There is no doubt that public ownership is more desirable than private ownership, especially in a city like Chicago, where good local transportation at a low cost is so vital to the comfort and convenience of our people who work for a living."

Going into the history of the Chicago fight for lower fares, the mayor said:

"In 1907 the street railway companies made contracts with the city of Chicago, and through a referendum, directly with the people. By these contracts the companies agreed to furnish first class service for five cent fares until February 1, 1927."

"The companies have never furnished first class service. Their service has been abominable. Their contracts, during the first twelve years, were very profitable. They made net profits of more than $100,000,000."

"When on account of the war some lean years threatened, the companies obtained from the public utilities commission an increase in rates from 5 to 8 cents, which put an additional burden on the car riders of $60,000 a day, or $21,000,000 a year. The courts have held that the Public Utilities Commission represented the state and that the contracts of the city could be abrogated by the commission."

"Later the Illinois Commerce Commission, appointed by Gov. Small, which had fully as much authority as the Public Utilities Commission, ordered the five cent fare restored. A United States Court enjoined this order of the Commerce Commission, which held out a measure of relief for car patrons, and thereby continued the 8-cent fare."

"The mayor declared that the Chicago people had approved the settlement contracts made in 1907 'because they believed those contracts provided for public ownership at their maturity,' but were in reality to prevent the public from ever acquiring the lines."

"To strengthen the hold of the companies upon the streets," the mayor explained, "a joker was introduced into the contracts providing that while the rights of the companies to the streets would expire February 1, 1927, the city could not authorize any other company to operate in the streets, except upon condition that the company would pay the present companies the purchase price of the contracts."

"A representative of the companies testified that there is $85,000,000 to $90,000,000 in this padded purchase price that is not represented in any property at all. Hence it is obvious that neither the city nor any other company could ever acquire the lines under the contracts."

"The mayor, as a solution to the problem, declared he was 'for an independent transportation district to acquire and operate the street railway properties, directly under the management of officials elected by the people for that purpose.'"

"Only in this way can the people have anything to say about what kind of service they shall have at what price," he concluded.

$700,000 FOR
N. P. SIGNALS

"Among the largest items in the Northern Pacific improvement budget for 1922 is one for $700,000 to extend and improve the signals and interlocking plants. Contracts for these improvements will be finally closed this week, and work will soon commence."

"The entire main line will ultimately be protected by automatic block signals," said G. W. Mosier, agent, today. "At present 23 per cent of main track of the railways of the United States is protected by automatic block signals. The Northern Pacific now has 83 per cent of its main track so protected and our expenditures this year for the extension of this system will greatly increase the percentage."

The principal signal construction this year will be between Dilworth, Minn., and Jamestown, N. D., and between Jamestown and Mandan, N. D., a total mileage of 203. Our 100 per cent program includes for construction, following the activities of this year, the following mileage:

Carlton, Minn., to Staples, Minn., 120 miles.
Little Falls, Minn., to Staples, 34 miles.
Logan, Mont., to Garrison, Mont., 119 miles (via Butte).
DeSmet, Mont., to Paradise, Mont., 64 miles.
Cheney, Wash., to Pasco, Wash., 130 miles.
Tacoma, Wash., to Tenino, Wash.—Two lines, one 43 miles in length, the other 35 miles.

INJUSTICE TO DEAD ENGINEER

Washington Dispatches Referring to Waverly Wreck Criticized by Minnesota Railroad Commission

None of the trainmen involved in the disastrous wreck near Waverly, Minn., in which five persons lost their lives is criminally responsible, declares the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission. Newspaper dispatches from Washington to the effect that the Minnesota commission, in a joint report with the Interstate Commerce Commission, has fastened the blame for the wreck on the engineer who was killed, are refuted by Commissioner Ivan Bowen on behalf of the state commission.

"It is a gross injustice to A. V. McDonald, the engineer who died at his post of duty to charge him with criminal responsibility," says Mr. Bowen. "His record shows that he was one of the most competent engineers on his division. The train orders were properly handled and only an error in judgment, to which all human beings are liable, made the unfortunate wreck possible. No one is criminally to blame and no one should be charged with a crime, particularly not one who dies at his post of duty and when his lips are sealed in death."

Opportunity.

A missed opportunity is like the sun in the heavens. At midday, when it is dearest to us, we cannot perceive it sufficiently clearly; the white glare is too much for our eyes. It is only when it is passed, when it is already sinking, that it looms large, its details magnified and the whole suffused in golden splendor.

"FLU" LEAVES PATIENT
WEAK AND NERVELESS

Regains Strength After Almost Giving
Up Hopes of Recovery

Spanish Influenza or "Flu" as this dread disease is now generally called, almost invariably leaves the sufferer weak, nervous, discouraged and depressed. As a matter of fact, some people never fully recover from the effects of "Flu" simply because they do not know there are remedies that will bring back their health and strength.

In a letter, Mrs. Jonas Myers, R. F. D. No. 1, Kelly's Station, Pa., tells how she counteracted the effects of a severe attack of "Flu" after trying various remedies. She says: "I never took any medicine that did me so much good as Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills. I had the 'Flu' and after I got over it, was so weak and nervous, I could hardly get around. I tried different medicines but was no better when I quit using them than before I started. A friend sent me one of your booklets and I read of Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines. I may say that I had given up all hope of ever getting better, but three boxes of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills made me feel like a new person. I feel now as if life was worth living once more, and am recommending Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines to everyone I know."

You can buy Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box. This trade mark is your protection against imitations. —Advertisement.

MINNESOTA CENTRAL C. E. CONVENTION

Christian Endeavor Hosts Praised
BRAINERD for Generous Welcome
Accorded Them

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Officers Elected With one Exception
According to Nominations Made on Saturday

Most of the visiting delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention held in the First Presbyterian church of this city during the past three days, left for their homes on late trains Sunday evening and on early trains Monday morning, all of them expressing their appreciation of the hospitality and courtesies shown them while in Brainerd.

Sunday's sessions opened with the sun-rise prayer meeting at 8 o'clock. At 10:30 the convention sermon was preached by Rev. S. M. Kelly, the pastor advisor of the district, who took for his topic "An Unchanging Leader" and taking for his text the words of the writer to the Hebrews "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and unto the ages." Mr. Kelly said in part as follows: "The author of this epistle wrote some thirty-five years after the crucifixion, almost at the climax of a time of change, when his fellow Hebrews were isolated and disheartened. They had cast off the exclusive religion of the Temple with its splendid ritual and its ties of family and race, and instead had what must have often seemed the disappointing insignificance of Christian ceremonial and separation from many an association both of personal love and national patriotism.

Their eschatology had failed, their hope of the Coming Kingdom had not been fulfilled according to expectations. Christ had not come in Glory and there were no signs of His return or His triumph, and their whole religious atmosphere was charged with doubt and disappointment and loneliness.

"The man who brings the message that is contained in this text is not a bigoted opponent of a wholesome, healthy change. The words are not the formula which is to disguise the policy of hindering the progress of knowledge. The writer is really the author and the advocate of a New Theology. He lays hold on the fixed factor in Christianity, which is the indispensable condition of every sound theology and the verifying element in all and offers it as his justification for teaching the Christian Faith.

It would be more than passing strange if a man who had a vision for his own age had no message for ours, living, as we do, in the midst of change and unrest. The urge of the Eternal within us is pushing us far beyond the reach of things that once satisfied us. We are beginning to realize that the individual experience of Paul that he gave expression to when he said 'When I was a child I thought as a child but now I am become a man I have put away childish things' is more than an individual experience, that it has broadened into a racial fact. The things which appealed to the childhood of our race do so no longer. Man has been going to school in God's world, and, tho he has been somewhat of a dull pupil, yet he has learned some lessons, mastered some principles that will keep his face toward the sunrise.

Living in a world that we are constantly outgrowing, even tho it is a growing world, we might with profit consider this Unchanging Leader.

1. The Transcendent Christ.—Recognizing to the full the human and the historic Christ, the facts of the case compel us to insist upon the transcendent Christ. It is easy to be pretentious and assert that it is unessential what we think of Christ's pre-existence, or that the idea itself has been borrowed from Hindu mythology or Greek philosophy and that it is the instinctive tendency of humanity to deify its heroes. But how does it happen that Jesus is the one solitary instance of this tendency in its supreme manifestation. What other character has so woven himself into the thought and work of the world that, in order to explain his uniqueness, we say that he must have had a consciously pre-existent life. The best minds, the clearest souled men of the generations have held that Jesus is not only in history, the meaning of history, the warp and the world that, in order to explain his and behind history and that he transcends time itself. No less a conception than that which Paul had when he said 'For in Him are all things created, in the heavens and upon the earth, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers' can justify itself before the bar of Christianized reason. Our little systems have their day, the philosophies of yesterday are gone and the philosophies of today will be dead tomorrow. They are excellent undertakers for outworn intellectual methods, but the day comes when the undertaker himself must be buried. Philosophers may come and go but the Transcendent Christ goes on forever.

II. The International Christ.—Viewing Christ in the light of Christian experience he presents the most interesting of paradoxes. No race had such an exalted opinion as to their destiny or were more exclusive than the Jew, and yet it was left for one born in Palestine and cradled in Judaism to give to the world a conception of God that was universal and international. Moses is Jewish distinctly, Confucius is Chinese to the core, Brahminism is the essence of the Hindu caste system, Islamism has all the earmarks of the fanaticism of desert tribesmen. Christ surmounts the barriers of race and color and we begin to understand something of what He himself meant when He said 'And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me'. We have never fully realized the magnetism of the Christ in his international and inter-racial relationship. His universality is the wonder of the world. He is the desire of nations, the heart throb of humanity, the completion of the individual, the goal of the races and the crown of the universe.

III. The Contemporary Christ.—Transcendent and international, this Unchanging Leader becomes the Contemporary Christ, explaining the yesterdays of history, mortgaging the unborn tomorrows, the Lord of the present and the master of invisible realms.

There are two ways of construing the present movement, called by some the 'New Democracy'. First, we may say that it is the day of the Iconoclast, the anarchist, the socialist, the individualist and the materialist. We may take the attitude that materialism is in the saddle and that without doubt we are headed for destruction. Or we may take the larger view and, without apologizing for the wickedness of the wicked, becomingly ask ourselves if we have fully measured the content of God's redemptive program for the mankind.

All through the centuries Christ has been coming in the cloud with power and great glory. Every time of social upheaval is not pure calamity but also a time of great and solemn responsibility. Out of the calamity of the destruction of the Temple and the downfall of Jerusalem there came the scattering of the Hebrew Christians who brought the message of the world's Redeemer to the uttermost parts of the then world. Out of the persecutions of Rome, the burning of the martyrs, came the day when the proud imperial eagles of Rome acknowledged the supremacy of the cross. From that torrent of God-intoxicated fanaticism that swept out of the desert there was brought into Europe the culture of the east and there was laid the foundations of the Reformation. The gospel is the dynamite of God unto salvation. We live in a world in which something must be blown up in order to make room for larger things. Some growths like social injustice, inhuman industrialism, commercial greed, political demagoguery must be destroyed that the blossoming trees of God's own planting may extend their kindly shade.

"But crown Christ King, and He shall usher in a better day than ever has been, for those who toil and those who spin and those the grain that garner in.

Resolutions Adopted

The committee on resolutions presented the following report which was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved: That as delegates to this convention of the Central District of the Christian Endeavor Union do hereby express our appreciation of the courtesies extended to us while in the city of Brainerd.

First, to the ladies of the Presbyterian and Peoples churches for the splendid banquet served on Friday evening.

Second to W. E. Haydon, President of the Chamber of Commerce, for the wholehearted welcome we were tendered through him.

Third to the pastor and people of the Presbyterian church for the use of their building for our sessions.

Fourth, to the good people who opened their homes to us and made us feel so much a part of their family circles during our stay.

Last we wish to express, in a special way, our very great appreciation of the courtesies extended by the Brainerd Dispatch in the publicity given our convention through their columns. All of which is respectfully submitted.

MISS GRACE MASON
MISS EVA FOSS,
MRS. OLSON

The convention closed with an address by the district president, Mrs.

Easter Preparations and Our Help

The whole spirit of the Spring Season centers around Easter Sunday and this year, Easter Sunday comes at the most propitious time—April 16th—just when the mellow zephyrs from the south-land come up to meet the glowing rays of the rapidly warming sun.

More delightful than ever, the new Spring season seems, for so much is waiting for it. How glorious the new fashions are! What a radiance there is to the brilliant new colorings!

What wonder that womankind seems and feels so much more youthful than in those older days. Never before has a new season offered so much youthful inspiration in the clothes prepared for femininity—in graceful lines, in supple silks in radiant colorings.

It is really a joy just to look at the new things. Come and see them.

AMUSEMENTS

Actor Fights Fierce Wolf with Fists

One of the most sensational scenes ever shown on the screen is David Fielding's barehanded fight with a wolf in "Shame," the William Fox special production running at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Tuesday.

Fielding's wife has reached the Alaskan cabin where her husband and child are staying and, as he carries her in, the wolf follows, snarling, and leaps at the man's throat. He clutches for the beast's neck, misses, and forces his wrist into its mouth, holding the white fangs apart. Back and forth across the floor the struggle goes on. Now, for a moment, the man is on his feet, and then he is thrown by the writhing, clawing animal—but never losing his hold. Finally his free hand finds the throat of the wolf.

For a few moments, feeling the death grip in the strength of the man, the struggles of the wolf are redoubled and the hold is almost broken. Then the beast begins to weaken, and at last gives up the fight.

It is a gripping, thrilling battle from the moment the wolf leaps at the man until the termination of the struggle, and forms a sensational incident in an enthralling story.

John Gilbert, the brilliant and athletic young screen actor who won promotion to stardom by his excellent work in the role of David Fielding, did not come unmarked out of the fight. The animal selected was three-quarters wolf, with a strain of mulatto or husky dog. It was trained, but untamed. Once at grips with the young actor, its training counted for nothing and it became all wolf. The realism of the struggle as shown on the screen is due to the fact that the fight is an actual fight.

Bebe Daniels at New Park

All—or nearly all—the secrets of the motion-picture star's life inside the studio, as well as what she does away from the Klieglights glare, are revealed in "The Speed Girl," in which Bebe Daniels is starring for Realart and which will play on Wednesday and Thursday at the New Park.

Miss Daniels brings to the part of Betty Lee, the motion picture star heroine, even more than the usual Daniel's beauty and charm. The role of the girl who developed a speed mania in her perambulator days and never outgrew it, so that she became a daring "stunt artist," fits the vivacious personality of the popular Miss Daniels to perfection, and it is hard to shake off the impression that Betty Lee is really Bebe Daniels.

The production strikes one as being up to the highest standard of screen comedy-drama. It was very well produced by Major Maurice Campbell, under the supervision of Elmer Harris, the author of the story.

Buster Keaton in "The Boat," a sure fire comedy.

MINNESOTA CENTRAL
C. E. CONVENTION

H. G. Bailey of Foley, in which she pointed out one of the fundamentals to success in Christian Endeavor was "Willingness." To be willing and ready to do our part, even though we may not be permitted, is worth more than ability without willingness. David was willing and ready to build the Temple, but was not permitted, nevertheless God counted it to him for righteousness. We must be willing to go where, and to do and say the things that Christ would have us say. Another element necessary to success is Sacrifice, not merely of money, the money gift is easy, but a sacrifice of time and pleasure that the things that are true may be cultivated.

This address was followed by the installation of the officers elect, conducted by Miss Boxell of St. Paul, state superintendent of Intermediate work.

The closing address of the convention was given by Harper Owen, president of the Minneapolis District Union, on "The Present Challenge to Christian Endeavor."

Mr. Owen opened his address by saying "When I say Christian Endeavor no one in this audience need be omitted, whether you have the fair hair of youth or the grey hair of age, or no hair at all. A Christian is one whose inward and outward life is conformed to the doctrines of Christ, and 'Endeavors' simply means a directed effort.

"Let me speak first of the need which creates the challenge. It is not necessary to remind you that a challenge exists. The first thing that happened when I struck town was that a newsboy sold me one of your dailies and on opening it I found that a raid had recently been made on a gambling joint in town, and also that one of the young men of this city was shot in another city for attempting to hold up some store keepers. It is such incidents as these that constitute part of the challenge to Christian Endeavor all over the land. Investigations have shown that 75% of the young men of Minneapolis never go inside of a church, and the way in which your poolrooms were packed last night I would judge that average would hold true here.

"The men who have made the world move are not the 'Its' who think it manly to suck poison out of a cigarette or who stand around the street corners vomiting out profanity and obscenity. On the authority of Captain Brunsell of the Minneapolis police force I can say that by far the larger number of bandit gangs that are operating in the twin cities are composed of young men of 25 and under."

"The second thing I want to bring to you is that Christian Endeavor has the Means and the Message to Meet the Challenge. The means are you and the message is the gospel of Christ, and experience has demonstrated that nothing else will fill the bill."

All the officers as nominated Saturday were elected with but one exception. Miss Cecille Morrison continued in publicity work for Minnesota News and Christian Endeavor World, in place of Miss Rae Templeton.

Girls Train For Dancing

Strong condemnation of most physical exercises advocated for health building, as far as they apply to women, is given by Miss Clarine Seymour, the actress whose physical feats and dancing in D. W. Griffith's latest production for the screen, "The Idol Dancer," has gained more than the unusual praise from the critics. She declares that most of the exercises result in the building up of muscles, the development of which destroys the grace and natural charm of womanhood.

Miss Seymour originated her own system of development which makes for suppleness, grace and endurance rather than ability to lift heavy weights and do other feats of spectacular strength. Small and slender, and with the willowy grace of youth Miss Seymour's appearance belies her ability to do the things which appear so easy to her in D. W. Griffith's production.

Miss Seymour prepared the following list as the exercises which she used in bringing herself to her present state of development:

1. Quick, deep breathing before an open window three or four times a day. To be continued until uncomfortable.
2. Extending the arms outward from the shoulder and then moving them so that the finger tips describe a large circle, as rapidly as possible until the fingers tingle.
3. The same movement with the arms extending above the head.
4. Standing on one foot and describing as wide a circle as rapidly as possible.
5. The same exercise standing on the other foot.
6. With feet slightly spread apart revolve the upper part of the body from the hips so that the head describes a circle. This exercise must be performed slowly at first but as it is continued the dizziness caused will gradually disappear, until it is possible to remain clear headed no matter how fast the motion.

Miss Seymour said that after a person has continued these exercises for some weeks, standing on tiptoe while performing exercises 3 and 4, they will be found very conducive to graceful dancing.

It will be shown at the New Park tonight and Tuesday.

In the Span of Life.

Tropical midges of sorts live less than a day—sequoias have felt their sap quicken with the warmth of three thousand springs. Somewhere between these extremes, we open our eyes, look about us for a time, and close them again. Modern political geography and shift of government give us Methuselah-like feelings; but a glance at rocks or stars sends us shuddering among the other notes, which glisten for a moment in the sunlight and then vanish.—William Beebe in the Atlantic Monthly.

More and Better Light

FOR more than 30 years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a big refiner of kerosene oil.

During all this time there has been a steady improvement in the quality of its product. This improvement has been more marked in the past ten or fifteen years during which time the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has developed methods of manufacturing to eliminate the danger of lamp explosions.

While the kerosene has been improved the devices for using it have remained unchanged.

Recognizing the fact that the users of Perfection Kerosene were unable to get a maximum service from the oil they burned, and realizing that the failure was due not to the oil but to the devices, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) set its experts to work to find a better burner and a more efficient chimney.

These men, working with the manufacturers of burners and chimneys, have succeeded in developing devices which increased largely the efficiency of the oil.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) does not sell lamps. But it believes that the users of lamps should be informed as to how to get the best results from the kerosene they use.

To accomplish this result this Company is distributing sixty thousand of the new burners and chimneys to dealers handling kerosene that they may demonstrate to their patrons how to get the most light from Perfection Kerosene by using appliances correctly designed.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has arranged with leading chimney manufacturers to stamp chimneys made in accordance with the design and specifications with the following trade mark:

This is but one of the many ways in which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) seeks to increase the efficiency of the service it is rendering the people of the territory it serves.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. Adv.
